

Avya Privacy Policy

Avya respects your privacy and takes reasonable efforts to protect it. By visiting this website, you consent to let us collect and use your shared information as described below.

Our website also uses a third-party service to automatically collect clickstream information about your visit. This can include the address of the website from which you originated before visiting our website, the pages you visit on our website, and the browser you use. This is not linked to any information that is personally identifiable and will be used to improve our website. While we may use this information to identify a company that has visited our website.

We may sell, transfer or otherwise share some or all our business or assets, including your personal information, in connection with a business transaction (or potential business transaction) such as a corporate divestiture, merger, consolidation, acquisition, reorganization or sale of assets, or in the event of bankruptcy or dissolution. In such a case, we will make reasonable efforts to require the recipient to honor this Privacy Policy. As necessary, we may share non-personal information with our trusted third-party service providers to perform services on our behalf. They typically use non-personal, anonymous information-like clickstream information regarding visit duration that isn't identifiable with a particular visitor to further improve the website.

We will only collect, store, or use personally identifiable information ("Your Information"), when it is voluntarily submitted to us. You have the option not to provide Your Information, and in the future, you will be able to "opt out" of certain uses of your information. When you voluntarily submit Your Information, we use it to provide you with a response to your inquiry or with information targeted to your needs. If you would like us to delete Your Information, please contact us at the address below.

Certain third parties working with Avya, such as our clients or prospective clients, may have access to extranet sites. While Avya maintains the security of content on extranet sites used by our clients for account management and project management, Avya is not responsible for client posts or file transfers.
